BRYANS OUT OF THE PRIMARY

Both Peerless Leader and Brother Charles Will Not Interfere

FINAL DAY FOR FILINGS

Attorney General Makes Ruling Which Applies to Nonpartisan Judiciary Ticket—Valuable Stock in Transit.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Secretary of State Bryan will continue a watchful waiting policy regarding the candidates for democratic nominations on the state and congressional tickets in Nebraska, taking no part in lending assistance to any of them, according to a telegram received by Brother Charles W. today. After the nominations, the secretary will get into the fight and do what he can for the nominees.

"That is just exactly where I stand now," said Prince Charles, as he exhibited the message to newsmen at the Lindell hotel this noon. Neither the commander nor himself will take any part in the primary.

This is a cheerful message, coming just as the primary battle is closing and ought to help a whole lot in stilling some of the beating hearts.

Democrats Luncheon

Democrats to the number of about two dozen and a half, pure food count, held their last luncheon of the campaign at the Lindell hotel. It was a sad looking crowd. The bill of fare was as follows:

I will not be a candidate for a second term.
Yes I will too, Gravy.
Statement by George with onions.
Statement by Metcalf denouncing that another statement of George with pickled pig's feet.
Duff to Prince Charles with blazer trimmings.
Statement of Morehead with cream.
Maler with Chittawal olives.
Statement of Berge a la punk.
Some more statements.
Cold coffee with beans.

That the personal and factional inside the Nebraska democracy is still smoldering and only waiting to break forth, is evident from unmistakable signs, which even the Journal is unable to shut its eyes to, as written the following in that paper:

"Nebraskans who have returned during the last month from trips to Washington bring back the information that the strained relations between Secretary of State Bryan and Senator Hitchcock have not been exaggerated by Nebraska friends of the two leaders. Further, they say that some day a battle royal will be fought out in Nebraska democracy that will settle the quarrel for some time. The senator, especially, is said to be desirous of getting a verdict direct from the people.

Ogallala Prepares for Big Fair. OGALLALA, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The Ogallala county fair association is making plans for the biggest county fair ever held in this county. A new horse barn is being erected and a large grandstand will be started next week. The association has raised over a thousand dollars in the last week to be used in fitting the grounds.

Filing for County Judge. A. J. Shaffer, county attorney of Phelps county, has asked the attorney general for an opinion as to the time a candidate can file for county judge on a non-partisan ballot. He wants to know if a filing made at 10:30 a. m., August 5, is in sufficient time. The law requires that the filing must be made ten days before the primary, and as the primary is on August 18, Deputy Attorney General Ayers has decided that the filing is in time.

Another question put up to the attorney general is whether a voter can write in a name on the primary or election ballot. Mr. Ayers is confident that he cannot do so on the primary ballot, but has not made up his mind as to the regular election.

Valuable Load of Stock. An official of the Burlington railway at the Lindell hotel today gave out the information that probably the most valuable train of stock which ever went into South Omaha passed over that road this week from Wyoming.

The train contained fifty-two cars and the cattle averaged 107 net on the South Omaha market. The check given the shipper for the stock was a little over $100,000.

Makes Visit East. Mrs. E. G. Maggi, wife of Secretary Maggi of the state prison pardon board, left this afternoon for a two months' visit with Mr. Maggi's family in Chelsea and other points in and around Boston.

Kates Resigns. E. J. Kates, who has been for many years connected with the physical valuation department of the railway commission, has handed in his resignation to take effect September 1. The work of the department on which Mr. Kates has been engaged has practically been completed and consequently he hands in his resignation.

Notes from Osceola. OSCEOLA, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The second annual chautauque session opened in Osceola today and will continue through until next Friday.

During the same week as the chautauque the Peck County Teachers' association will hold its annual institute. This work is under the supervision of Miss Amelia Rasmussen, county superintendent of schools. Instructors this year are: Dean B. E. McProud of the Baker university; Emily Wood Knutson, formerly of Omaha, now lecturer in the University of Chicago; Superintendent C. E. Moore of the Osceola city schools; and Prof. Filley, now of the farm management department of the state university of Nebraska.

The Union Pacific depot at Osceola was broken into on Wednesday night and considerable of the property of the company destroyed. Among other things ruined was a typewriter, telegraph keys, books, stationery and all things within easy reach.

Notes from Beatrice. BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The citizens of DeWitt held a mass meeting Thursday night and decided to call a special election soon to vote bonds in the sum of $15,000 for the purchase of the electric light plant and a five-acre tract of land south of that town for a ball park.

William Twombly was found guilty in police court Friday by a jury of the charge of beating his wife. He was given ninety days in jail.

Nicholas Livingston, aged 22, and George Frychter, aged 18, both of Marysville, Kan., were married here Friday afternoon by Rev. E. F. Gaither of Centenary Methodist church.

AVOCA, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—The wife of William Kepler, living west of Avoca, was instantly killed this morning by the accidental discharge of an automatic shotgun. NEBRASKA CITY, Aug. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—William Kepler, a farmer in the northern part of the county, was today a shot gun with which to kill rats this morning when the gun was accidentally discharged and the full charge entered the back of his wife, who was at work near him, killing her almost instantly. The couple had been married six years and have two children. The husband is frantic and had to be restrained.

CANDIDATES APPEAR AT BROWNVILLE PICNIC

AUBURN, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—The home coming picnic was celebrated at Brownville yesterday. Old timers from Lincoln, Omaha, Hastings and Beatrice, besides nearer points, were in attendance. Candidates galore were in evidence. Judge Hunt of Bridgeport, chief justice, C. F. Reavis, W. E. Annis and several others made short talks.

Ernest M. Pollard was the principal speaker. He talked on fruit and fruit culture. This seems to be the only locality where all the orchards seem to have a fair crop, and some of them are extra large. Many of the farmers devote their entire time to fruit, and are learning how to take care of the same to get the best results.

TWO HARTINGTON MEN KILLED IN SIOUX CITY

HARTINGTON, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—Two or three hundred curious people were at the depot last night when the train came in to see the arrival of the bodies of Clint Bowers and Harry Wymer, the two unfortunate young men who were ground to pieces by the cars in the Milwaukee railroad yards at Sioux City on Thursday. The funeral was held here this morning under the auspices of the Eagle lodge, of which the men were members. There was a short service at the Presbyterian church, Bowers was a married man, having a wife and three children in this county. Wymer was single.

MAKING CLOSING REMARKS

Candidates Busy Calling Attention to Their Opponents.

MOREHEAD'S LATEST CIRCULAR

Governor Replies to Berge, Wilson Answers the Board of Control and Crawford Kennedy Expresses Satisfaction.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The issuing of statements and restatements which has marked the democratic campaign for the nomination for governor still continues and it is a very peculiar day when one or the other of the three patriots does not issue some sort of a manifesto, calling attention to the weakness of his opponents. Governor Morehead is the last to come forward with a little epistle and he starts off by calling Mr. Berge for statements he has made about a certain statement made by the governor in the campaign of 1912 when he promised not to be a candidate again.

Another statement comes in the form of a letter to the Board of Control signed by C. J. Wilson, replying to Warden Penon's statement against his "discharge" as penitentiary guard for making a campaign contribution contrary to law. "I was not possessed with the knowledge that it was illegal to contribute to a campaign fund at the time I contributed, but I found it out about two weeks later," says he and asserts that a Morehead campaign fund was raised with the warden a party to it.

Crawford Kennedy's Statement. Crawford Kennedy is also out with a statement to tell how well pleased he is with his campaign for the republican nomination for congress in the First district. The senator has been somewhat handicapped during the campaign by sickness and has not been able to get over the district like his opponents, but in closing he says:

"While I have not been financially able to make lavish purchases of publicity through columns in papers, thousands of posters, moving picture films and public meetings, I have made consistent effort in the time at hand, to acquaint as many as possible with my candidacy. I believe that my friends, those who have known me for years, those who have worked with me for republican success in national and state politics, believe that I am equipped to serve the people of this district as congressman at least equally as well as others seeking the nomination. I claim to be nothing but a common man, enlisted in a common cause, and if nominated and elected the people of this district will know absolutely that their representative in congress is lending every effort in their interest at every turn of the road."

Nothing to Surprise. A tenderfoot was watching a game of poker in the wild west. He saw one of the players deal himself four aces from the bottom of the pack. The tenderfoot whispered indignantly to another onlooker:

"Did you see that?" "What?" asked the other. "That swindler dealt himself four aces!" "Well," was the astounded reply, "wasn't it his deal?"

Society of Equity Says Farmers Are Getting Small End

TOBIAS, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—At the regular meeting of the Tobias District Clearing house of the Farmers' Society of Equity yesterday, resolutions were passed deploring the European war now in progress and lamenting the fact that we have no merchant marine in the United States. Any move that might be made by any party at this time to fasten upon a ship subsidy was condemned. The president was commended for the promptness with which he recommended to congress the passage of a law admitting foreign built ships to registry.

Our congressmen are called upon to investigate war prices that now prevail, giving special attention to the fact that grain and live stock and other commodities now in the hands of the producers, are on a declining market because no neutral ships are available for the export trade, while sugar, coffee, beer, pork and other items under trust control are advancing by leaps and bounds. It is not evident that there are any more ships available for the export trade than the latter commodities than for the former. The only conclusion is that farmers are not properly organized.

Also a resolution was passed that a law allowing government funds to be loaned direct to farmers on grain and other securities or recognized commercial value be passed by congress.

Dozen People Hurt as Roaster Explodes

BEATRICE, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—A dozen people were injured this afternoon, three of them seriously, when a gasoline peanut roaster exploded in front of the Grand Hotel, at Charles Overstreet, on lower Court street, during the parade of the Sells-Floto shows.

The seriously injured: Charles Overstreet, arm broken and crushed about hips. Evelyn Smith, arm broken and cut in back. George Smith, cut in head and face, badly burned. Slightly injured: Mrs. Sandusky, foot burned. Mrs. Walter Kelley, burned on hand. Louise Smith, cut in side.

Mr. Overstreet and Mr. Smith and daughter, Evelyn, were removed to a hospital for treatment.

Half a dozen people who were watching the parade were cut and bruised by flying fragments of the roaster.

The walkers expect it will require six months to make the trip. They have relatives at Loreita.

Carnegie Library for Broken Bow

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—A resolution sent here from the Carnegie corporation, New York, has been approved and adopted by the city council. This means for a certainty that Broken Bow will get its new $100,000 library building, the last step taken by the council virtually clinching the matter.

It is asked to provide a suitable location and furnish a nominal sum each year for the upkeep of the library. The assessed valuation of Broken Bow is $200,000 at the present time. Heretofore in order to maintain the very small library it has had, a 2-mill levy has been made, which gives a sum of about $700 a year. The new library will cost $1,000 a year to keep up. Even with this increased valuation the levy would probably not reach more than 2 1/2 mills.

Nothing to Surprise. A tenderfoot was watching a game of poker in the wild west. He saw one of the players deal himself four aces from the bottom of the pack. The tenderfoot whispered indignantly to another onlooker:

KEMP SAYS CHANCE IS GOOD

CLOSING CAMPAIGN STRONG

Spoke at Lincoln Last Night After Making Tour of Southern Part of State, Where His Was Greatly Encouraged.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Senator J. H. Kemp, republican candidate for the nomination for governor, returned to Lincoln this morning from a trip through the south part of the state. The senator is feeling very confident of success at the primary next Tuesday, and in the event of his nomination, that he will be elected. The following statement was issued by him at noon today just before leaving for an automobile trip to nearby towns, after which he expects to deliver an address at a big picnic at Havelock. This evening he was in Lincoln:

"Conditions look good throughout the state and everything points to the election of the republican ticket this fall. I have met with encouragement everywhere, and it seems to be the belief that I can unite the party and lead it to success this fall."

H. C. Beebe, manager for Mr. Kemp, says that but four letters have been received of the big bunch coming in every mail to Kemp headquarters which have not showed a strong Kemp sentiment in every part of the state.

"You may say," said Mr. Beebe, "that while I find other candidates for the republican nomination are strong in certain localities, the sentiment for Senator Kemp seems to be strong nearly all over the state."

"Things look pretty good to me," said he. "We have had a fine campaign in which there have been no personalities on the republican side for the nomination for governor, and if that happy condition keeps up we can all be in a position to get behind the winner. I think that I will be that winner and should I be nominated there is little doubt of my election for I want to tell you this is a republican year."

Mr. Hammond has spent some time this week in this locality and feels good over the outlook.
